The essence of our school is peaceful existence; we believe that conflict should be resolved in a positive way. We manage conflict by turning negatives into positives. We practice good communication skills and we approach a problem with a sensible solution. We empower our learners and uplift their self-image, giving them confidence and teaching them to love themselves. We teach our learners to compromise, consider others and to always respect all human beings. We strive to make a difference in the child's life and we hope that our teaching will continue throughout their lives and that others will see it and follow in their example.
